1 Celebrate the 16th Annual Eagle Rock Music Festival

Fri Oct 3, 2014 10:12 pm (PDT) . Posted by: asncalert

Featuring performances by Aloe Blacc, Quetzal, Maya Jupiter, Mia Doi Todd, Taylor McFerrin, Buyepongo, Eagle Rock High School Latin Jazz Band, and many more.

On Saturday, October 4th, 2014, from 4 - 10pm, Los Angeles Councilmember José Huizar and Center for the Arts Eagle Rock proudly present the 16th Annual Eagle Rock Music Festival (ERMF). The Festival celebrates the diverse communities of Northeast Los Angeles by transforming six blocks of historic Colorado Boulevard into a vibrant celebration of music and culture, featuring some of the most influential artists, emerging talents, and genre-defying producers and DJs.

Your donation supports arts in our community. Donate $10 through Ticketfly, and you receive fast track entrance and a digital download of the 16th Annual ERMF mix. Donate $20 through Ticketfly, and you receive fast track entrance, 16th Annual ERMF mix, access to the VIP area, and a limited edition ERMF 2014 t-shirt.

THE ERMF 2014 LINEUP

The Center Stage, at the heart of the Festival route, brings the irresistible talents of Aloe Blacc, Maya Jupiter, Quetzal, Taylor McFerrin, Exile with Dag Savage featuring Choosey, J Rocc, SoSuperSam, Myron & E, and Ethio Cali.

The Subtropical Stage at Rantz Auto Center, features a sonic spectrum of global beats courtesy of Subsuelo, Buyepongo, Palenke Soultribe, Viento Callejero, and the Eagle Rock High School Latin Jazz Band.

The Experimental Stage, curated with the eclectic Dublab collective and located inside the Los Angeles Filipino-American Church, showcases an all-female lineup of artists including Cat 500, Anna Oxygen, Angels of Aumsphere, Nedelle Torrisi, and White Magic.

The Americana Stage, housed in the historic Women's Twentieth Century Club, will host modern folk favorites Triple Chicken Foot, The New Historians, Gypsies & Judges, and Honey Whiskey Trio.

The Family Stage, at Eagle Rock City Hall, presents a variety of family-friendly activities and programming. Craft with Center for the Arts Eagle Rock teaching artists and dance to performances by Mia Doi Todd, Bonne Musique Zydeco, Lily Beats, The Hollow Trees, and laugh with Sock Puppet Sitcom Theater.

Colombo's Italian Restaurant & Jazz Club becomes a bluesy lounge, hosting Ivory Deville, Wicklow Atwater and the Fallen Flame, The Joe Johnston Band, and Campus Security.

4 BioSpaceLA, Budget, #BanTheBag, and MORE!

Fri Oct 3, 2014 10:13 pm (PDT) . Posted by: asncaalert

Hello and happy first week of October! This week was a bittersweet one. On Tuesday, we passed the Supplemental Budget, and I voted on it for the last time. You can read about what it included below. I will also tell you about BioSpaceLA and the Regional Connector groundbreaking — and finally, we can celebrate that this week, Governor Jerry Brown signed the Bag Ban into law!

Enjoy the newsletter, and enjoy your weekend!

It's In the Bag!

Great news! This week, Governor Jerry Brown signed SB 270 (Padilla) – State legislation which will #BanTheBag in California! We will finally be able to eliminate single-use plastic bags throughout the Golden State! Many thanks to all who helped out! MORE

Color Me Balanced!

This week, the County passed the Supplemental Budget – marking the end of my last budget session. While it was bittersweet, I'm very proud of what we accomplished. Throughout the years, we have fought the good fight to get our equal allocation of funds. I also want to say a BIG thank you to my budget deputy – Louisa Ollague. I couldn't have done it without you! BioSpaceLA Is On Its Way!

This week, the Board voted to bring BioSpaceLA to Boyle Heights. Thanks to a $3.5 million investment by L.A. County, we're focusing on Valley Blvd. between the LAC+USC Medical Center and Cal State L.A. and will be creating a bioscience incubator! MORE

Get It? Got It! Go Metro!

Earlier this week, we broke ground on the Metro Regional Connector in downtown L.A. This day has been a long time coming. Finally, our riders will have a seamless ride across our region and through downtown – which means ... fewer transfers! Our light rail projects spur economic development and create jobs—and this connector transforms our mass transit network into a truly world-class system.

6 Silver Lake Library Programs next week

Fri Oct 3, 2014 10:13 pm (PDT) . Posted by: asncaalert

Please join us next week for the following free programs at Silver Lake Library:

Monday, Oct 6, 6:15-7 pm Mindfulness Meditation with Jennifer Howd

Tuesday Oct. 7, 6-7:30 The Odyssey Play by Gary Stickel

The play was written for children of all ages in rhyming verse to let people know Homer's original was a poem. The story tells of King Odysseus' 10-year journey home from the Trojan War and his fantastic encounters with gods (Zeus, Poseidon) and monsters (the Cyclops and the Sirens). The production uses authentic costumes based on the murals, figurines and gemstones of Bronze Age Greece.

Pick up a copy of The Odyssey at the Information Desk and join us for this month's Silver Lake Book Club discussion on Tuesday Oct. 21 at 6:30. Check out the library's website for the Odyssey programs throughout October: www.lapl.org/silverlake <http://www.lapl.org/silverlake>

A former aide to Los Angeles City Councilman Jose Huizar has agreed to a settlement ending the sexual harassment case against her former boss -- without obtaining a payout from the city, the parties said Wednesday..

Rob Wilcox, spokesman for City Atty. Mike Feuer, said the city will pay "no money" to resolve the case filed last year by Francine Godoy, Huizar's former deputy chief of staff.

A Huizar representative would not say whether the councilman personally paid Godoy to end the case. "I really can't answer that question," said Robert Alaniz, a spokesman for Huizar's lawyer, Dennis Walsh.

Godoy's lawsuit alleged Huizar had retaliated against her after she refused to provide him with "sexual favors." Huizar called those allegations false but said he did engage in an extramarital affair with Godoy.

Had the city paid a financial settlement in the case, its terms would have become public. Private settlements need not be disclosed and often require the parties to promise never to discuss the details. Wilcox said he does not know whether Huizar made a private payment to settle the lawsuit.

Taxpayers are already on the hook for Huizar's legal fees. The council voted in April to authorize up to $200,000 in payments to Huizar's law firm and it was not clear Wednesday whether that limit had been reached.

The settlement was announced Wednesday, a day before a scheduled hearing on a court order that allowed certain documents in Godoy's case to be designated as confidential. The Los Angeles Times had challenged the order, saying it was overly broad.

Both Huizar and Godoy's attorney, Michael Eisenberg, released a statement saying all parties had reached "a global" settlement.

"The lawsuit's been dismissed against all parties," Eisenberg said. "And the parties are moving forward and will not discuss the matter any further."

Huizar is running for his third and final four-year term on the council. He has four opponents so far, including termed-out Los Angeles County Supervisor Gloria Molina, a political veteran who has previously served on the council and in the state Assembly.

Godoy, who is now employed by the city's Bureau of Sanitation, worked for Huizar from 2006 to 2013. During that time, her annual salary grew from about $47,000 to more than $132,000, according to personnel department officials.

In her lawsuit, Godoy had accused Huizar of denying her promotions, forcing her to transfer and pressuring her to quit. She also contended that the councilman had sabotaged her attempt to run for the Los Angeles Community College District's board of trustees in 2012.

Those allegations triggered an investigation by a five-member special committee overseen by the city's Personnel Department. Godoy refused to participate in that probe; her lawyer called the process "fatally tainted."

The panel later issued a report saying that investigators lacked evidence to support Godoy's allegations that discrimination and retaliation took place. However, the committee did find that Godoy "received monetary raises, multiple times, at a faster rate" than most other staffers in Huizar's office.

End of Summer Newsletter

Dear Friend,

Summer has come and gone and our Boys in Blue are at it again. They are once again Division Champs and are enthralled in a heated pennant race! Just like them, our office was also busy this past summer. We held many successful events including a senior fraud prevention seminar, a tree adoption in Eagle Rock, a community beautification project in East LA and a citizenship drive.

I was also honored by the Los Angeles Dodgers and received their "Héroe de la Comunidad" (Hero of the Community Award) as part of their Viva Los Dodgers event. Please keep reading our end of summer newsletter below for more details and great pictures.

In addition to all our community activities, we wrapped up this legislative session with Governor Brown signing all of my bills into law! That's right, another year, another clean sweep! All 13 of my bills on the Governor's desk were signed! Stay tuned for more information coming to your inbox soon about all the success we had in Sacramento this year.

As the fall classic moves forward, let's hope next month's newsletter includes a nod to a championship being celebrated at Chavez Ravine.

Friends,

For sixteen years I have dedicated my public service to make sure that the undocumented immigrants are treated with respect; and no one is discriminated when trying to obtain a license to drive legally in California.

Today, it has been one year since we stood on these very steps when Governor Jerry Brown signed Assembly Bill 60 into law. Some people have been critical by saying this a Federal issue and I should focus on local issues. I say what can be more local than making our streets safer with licensed drivers that are insured.

There are one million undocumented immigrants that need to be educated and properly prepare people to apply with the Department of Motor Vehicles to get their driver license. Many of those immigrants live right here in the first district so by making sure that many of our residents are properly trained, licensed and insured will result in greater street safety not only in the First Council District, but all of California. Sincerely,

Gilbert A. Cedillo
Councilmember, First District

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Economic Report 2014

The Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce gave a report to the City Council titled, "2014 Los Angeles City Council Districts Economic Report". The report was conducted by the L.A. Area Chamber and Beacon Economics, which is the fifth study to look at economic trends by Council districts.

According to the report, the First District encountered a positive private employment growth at 4% increase for 2013 with additional jobs added to the district from 2012. Gross business receipts increased by 11.8% from the previous year, which is the fourth highest in the city.

Mes de Salud – Health Awareness with the Mexican Consul

This week we kicked off with at City Council, El Mes de Salud 2104 and honored all of the hard work the Los Angeles Mexican Consul, who hosts 13 health fairs serving over 50,000 residents this month. The Consul has been doing outreach to the Spanish speaking community for six years to educate about health resources available to them.

Día de Latinoamérica

A couple of months ago we were approached by a coalition of Latin American Consul Generals with a concept to celebrate during Latino Heritage month, Dia de Latinoamerica. Los Angeles is a one of the most diverse cities in the world, a gateway for Latin American Countries. We have the highest population of Latinos in the country that have made many positive contributions to our cultural, economic and political landscape.

Therefore, in recognition and to celebrate the many contributions of all Latinos, I introduced a motion in city council that establishes every first Saturday of the month October will be known as Día de Latinoamérica in the city of Los Angeles. I was joined by 12 Consul Generals representing Argentina, Bolivia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Dominican Republic, and Uruguay. This Saturday there will be a celebration at MacArthur Park.

FIELD UPDATE

AB 60, California Driver License for Undocumented Immigrants

Today, we celebrate the historic bill signing of AB 60 by Governor Jerry Brown on the steps of City Hall. We need to educate and properly prepare people to apply to the Department of Motor Vehicles to get their driver license. On January 1, 2015 will be able to apply, test, and get a California driver license.

Kenny Washington Memorial Game IV

On Friday September 26, it was a pleasure to celebrate the fourth annual Kenny Washington Memorial Game at Abraham Lincoln High School with this year's theme "Honoring Our Tiger Veterans". The Kenny Washington Stadium Foundation honors the legacy of Kenny Washington, an African American local sports hero, who led the Lincoln High School Tigers to City Championships in baseball and football in 1935. He then attended UCLA and became the Bruins' first football All-American and the first to have a UCLA football jersey retired in his honor (#13).

Despite a stellar college career, Washington was denied entry into the National Football League due to the color of his skin until in 1946, when the Los Angeles Rams signed him to a contract making him the first African-American player.

During halftime, we honored EastWest Bank, Enrique "Kiki" Castillo, Sadeo Munemori- Posthumously, Yoshisuke"Jake"Kunitomi for their contributions to our community and country. The highlight for the team and fans was the unveiling of a bronze tiger statue provided by the Kenny Washington Stadium Foundation to the school.

Chinatown Service Center Gala

Last Friday, Team Cedillo attended the Chinatown Service Center Gala. It was a remarkable evening in Downtown Los Angeles where Chinatown leaders and community organizations came together to raise funds for an outstanding cause. The Chinatown Service Center has been providing essential health and human services to our communities since 1971. We are honored to have them in the First District.

Fire Station 12 Street Repair

We worked with the Bureau of Street Services to coordinate the repair and resurfacing of the alley between Avenue 59 and 60. The alley was a major public safety concern for our colleagues in Fire Station 12 and we wanted to address this concern that may affect fire service to our residents. Team Cedillo also took a tour of Fire Station 12 and had lunch with crew members from street services and the fire station.

CERT Disaster Drill Training

This past Saturday, we certified CERT leaders from Mt. Washington, Montecito Hts., Sycamore Grove and Lincoln Hts. at the Montecito Heights Recreation Center, who completed their supplemental training. Participants learned how to transport victims, use different methods of communication and practice as search and rescue teams.

The Mt. Washington Jessica Square CERT team is having an earthquake disaster drill on Saturday, October 18 in Mt. Washington. There is a need for more volunteers, for more information about participating please contact Sylvia Robledo at sylvia.robledo@lacity.org.

Respect Elders Day

Team Cedillo celebrated with the Grand Plaza Tenants Association is organizing a "Respect Elders Day" this past Thursday, October 2, 2014. At the celebration we were presented with a big "Thank you" card that thanked us for working with the residents and the property owner to make sure that the rent control laws were being obeyed. According to Chinese tradition, October 2nd is a day where Chinese remembers their ancestors. Five of their residents were over 100 years old, such an amazing life.

Westlake North Neighborhood Council Pet Care Event

This past Saturday, the community of Westlake held a pet care event to help support local pet owners. Team Cedillo was happy to support the event from the planning stages to its fruition. We congratulate community members Dee Ward, Jennifer Virgen, Westlake North Neighborhood Council and the rest of the planning committee for a fantastic job. The event helped 25 pet owners spay and neuter their pets for free as well as provide low cost vaccines. Several county and city departments as well as community organizations were available to provide information on other resources for pet owners. We remind you to order your free dog waste bag provided through the Los Angeles Stormwater website.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Handyworker Program

The Handyworker Program provides free minor home repairs for low-income seniors and disabled persons who own and occupy a single family home in the City of Los Angeles.

Homeowners must be 62 years old or have a disability, have an income that is less than the required maximum (see flyer). The repairs address safety and habitability concerns, including doors, windows, flooring, faucets, sinks, toilets, water heater, light fixtures, electrical outlets, railings, smoke detectors, carbon monoxide detectors, rain gutters and painting.

The Program also provides for the installation of safety and security devices for eligible homeowners and renters. Participants must be 62 years or older or disabled, have an income that is less than the required maximum.
